UNCLE SAM GROWS OVER 15 MILLIONS IN THE PAST 10 YEARS

Unofficial Figures Show Big Gain Especially In The West Where The Growth Is Very Fast

LOCAL POPULATION CLOSE TO 31,000 IS THE BEST GUESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—The census office today unofficially estimated the increase of population in the United States since 1900 at 15,121,036. The following unofficial figures were made public:

It was impossible today to obtain any estimates of the population of Pacific coast cities because of their rapid growth, which the census officials say makes an advance compilation impossible. . The returns from the coast are about a week later arriving than those from eastern sections. The following unofficial figures were made public:

LOCAL FIGURES SHOULD REACH 31,000

"We have received special instructions today by long distance telephone to give out no figures of intimation relative to the La Crosse census."

This was the answer of J. George Schweizer, assistant census director, today to a request for information about the local census enumeration. Director Frank Winter is absent from the city.

The question was propounded following the appearance in the United Press news telegrams of unofficial figures approximating the census returns in the larger cities of the United States.

Notwithstanding the refusal of the census director's office to give out figures, there are indications that the figures in La Crosse approach 31,000, and that it is hoped that a full enumeration will show a population in excess of that figure. The 1905 census showed a population of 29,078, and 31,000 would be an increase of 2,105 in ten years, the 1900 census having been 28,895.

One of the things pointed to as indicating the belief on the part of Mr. Winter that there are 31,000 people in La Crosse is his repeated plea through the newspapers to the public to secure the enumeration of every resident to the end that 31,000 may be reached. His address along similar lines before the board of trade last night carries a similar inference.

HELP GET THE 31,000

Mr. Winter declares that there is grave danger that many people will be overlooked in the enumeration, owing to shifting of population. One valuable suggestion he made is that employers of labor make diligent personal inquiry to ascertain that every one of his employes is enumerated. He says that in a single factory he found more than a score of men who were missed in the canvass. He and his helpers are endeavoring to get at these workmen, but they cannot reach them all. Here is a blank that citizens may have filled out and sent to Mr. Winter, in each case where they find an omission:

Have You Been Counted?

If not, or if you have any doubt, fill out this coupon and mail to Frank Winter, Supervisor of Census, McMillan Building, La Crosse.

On April 15, 1910, I was living at the address given below, but to the best of my knowledge I have not been enumerated there or anywhere else.

HOW INSURGENTS FORCE RECOGNITION

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Insurgents in the house are taking no chances with Speaker Cannon on the railroad bill. They meet every evening and formulate amendments for which all agree to stand. Each participant in the conference is given a copy. Then when the section of the bill which it is desired to amend, is read in the house, each insurgent arises. When a dozen or more men claim recognition, the speaker is forced to recognize some one—and—and—some presents the amendment.

The scheme is adopted in order to insure consideration of the changes sought upon.

MOTHER SHE IS AN AWFUL FLIRT AT 63

CHICAGO, May 4.—The daughters of the intrepid Captain Calbick, who died in 1907, have filed a petition in the superior court here asking that their mother, Mrs. Catherine Calbick-Harley, 63, be restrained from spending the remainder of the Calbick estate on girlish finery and the entertainment of her young spouse, Alfred Harley, 20. They allege that their mother has not forgotten how to flirt and that recently she married a man 20 years her junior when she might have married his father. Brilliant poke bonnets and gay parasols were some of the offending signs of her rejuvenation.

Graves Tells Farmers Latter Sought Popularity while the Former Is Making Good

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 4.—While President Taft was being driven over the boulevards of St. Louis today, John Temple Graves, was addressing the farmers' convention where Taft later appeared. He held Taft to be "one of the most honest and sincere officials the country ever had," and at the same time denounced former President Roosevelt.

It was only the popular issues that Roosevelt took up while he was president, said Graves, and then at the end of his term fled to Africa to escape any of the responsibility that was certain to arise as soon as his successor took up the work that was necessary—the putting through of some unpopular measures.

President Taft explained to the convention the conservation measures now before congress, calling for the protection of coal, phosphate and agricultural lands and water power sites. The president also reviewed the history of the conservation movement and asked the farmers to use all the influence at their command to get passed in the senate the "withdrawal" bill, which legalizes the withdrawal of public lands from entry already made, and gives the executive the power to make future withdrawals.

At this point the audience expected to hear something of Secretary Ballinger and former Forester Pinchot but the president disappointed them.

TAFT MUST CUT OUT B. B. OR PAY FINE

CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—These are troublesome days for President Taft, but the end is not yet—for W. H. Taft, member of the steam shovelers' union, may be set back from $10 to $25 if he attends the baseball game at St. Louis this afternoon in defiance of the union boycott against the Cleveland club.

WHY THEY STRUCK

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Twelve hours of hard labor for seven days a week is ascribed by the department of commerce and labor as the cause of the strike of unorganized men at the Bethlehem Steel Works at South Bethlehem, Pa., in a report sent to the senate today.

WOMEN SEEK VOTES

CHICAGO, May 4.—The conversion of this state to the "votes for women" cause will be sought this summer by suffragette speeches from the back seats of automobiles delivered in every county in the state. Like the liniment and cure-all venders of old, the suffragettes expect to go from town to town making speeches and singing songs and "whooping her up" for the cause.

FEAR AND HATE OF BOB MOVED THEM

New Reason Assigned for Sudden Withdrawal of Objectionable Clauses in Railroad Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—The final fact which impelled Senator Aldrich to withdraw the merger and rate agreement clauses in the Taft-Elkins railroad bill was the discovery that Senator La Follette had prepared to deliver a terrific assault upon the bill following Senator Cummins' final word. That the effect of this would clinch the defeat of these clauses the Rhode Island senator had no doubt, and it is said he and his "regular" associates were further influenced by the fear that the La Follette speech would increase the popularity of "Little Bob" in his own state, where the administration hopes to accomplish his retirement next fall.

The Michigan offer includes the payment of a two per cent tax on its gross receipts in the city, universal transfers, etc.

SOMETHING DOING IN LORIMER PROBE

Grand Jury Believed to Be Listening to New "Squealers" in Chicago Today

CHICAGO, May 4.—Developments came thick and fast today in the investigation by the Cook county jury of the charges that certain legislators had been paid to vote for Wm. Lorimer for United States senator. Following the return of State's Attorney Way from St. Louis, where, it is said, he located two more legislative "squealers," four legislators were taken before the grand jury for examination. They were: Representative Charles A. White, author of the bribery charges: Representative Henry A. Sheppard, mentioned by White as one of the men present in St. Louis when, White alleges, a "jackpot" was distributed; State Senator Albert Isley, who made a sensational speech in the legislature hinting at corruption; and Representative Thomas Tippitt, who was a candidate against Representative Lee O'Neil Browne for minority leader of the house.

Simultaneously the state's attorney announced that the sheriff of Sangamon county in which Springfield is located, would be given an opportunity to serve Representative white with a subpoena calling for his appearance before the Springfield grand jury to repeat there his bribery charges.

Senator Isley declared he would ferely tell the grand jury of the hearsay evidence he had in his possession regarding gossip of corruption that preceded the election of Lorimer. Representative Tippitt's evidence will be much in the same vein, he said.

State's Attorney Wayman announced this afternoon that Representative Michael Link, democrat, who voted for Lorimer, and whose name was mentioned in Representative White's statement was not one of the two legislators he interviewed in St. Louis yesterday.

MRS. SWOPE TAKES THE STAND TODAY

Sister-in-Law of Col. Swope Relates History of Hyde's Peculiar Life

THE SIGHT FASCINATES HYDE

Asks Permission to Gaze Through Microscope a Second Time at Agent of Death

KANSAS, CITY, Mo., May 4.—Mrs. Logan O. Swope, sister-in-law of Col. Thomas H. Swope, and mother of Mrs. Francis Hyde, the wife of Dr. B. C. Hyde, took the stand this afternoon to testify against her son-in-law, accused of the slaying of Colonel and Chrisman Swope and the alleged poisoning of members of the household.

Mrs. Swope was so overcome with emotion that she could hardly speak She told first of Dr. Hyde eloping with her daughter.

Vaughn Found Poison

Dr. Victor Vaughn, professor of toxicology at the University of Michigan, the last of the experts to testify for the state resumed the stand today. Dr. Vaughn showed the jury by aid of a powerful magnifying glass a part of a grain of strychnine which he took from Col. Swope's liver. He and Prof. Haines found almost a grain in the viscera, he said; almost twice the amount required to kill. In answer to a hypothetical question, Dr. Vaughn said he believed Col. Swope and Chrisman Swope died and Margaret Swope was made ill by some "convulsive poison." Strychnine and cyanide of potassium are such poisons, he said. He declared that he found cyanide in the bodies of the Swopes.

Dr. Vaughn was positive Dr. Hyde erroneously diagnosed the cause of the death in the cases of the Swopes.

They did not die of apoplexy or spinal meningitis, he said, but of some poison.

Lawyers Scrap

Attorney Walsh charged Dr. Vaughn and his associate experts with preparing testimony in advance under guidance of the special prosecutors. Dr. Vaughn was on the stand all morning and gave expert testimony relative to the poisons he said were found in Col. Swope's body.

Five hundred men and women besieged the doors of the courtroom long before the hour for beginning the trial today.

Judge Latshaw permits the crowd to eat luncheon in the room.

Hyde Fascinated

A peculiar fascination is exercised upon Dr. Hyde by the exhibit of strychnine taken from Col. Swope's liver. Today he asked to again be allowed to examine it with the chemists' magnifying glass. He gazed at it a long time and said: "That's too yellow to be pure strychnine."

WANTS PATERNAL STEAMSHIP LINE

WASHINGTON, D. C., ay 4. — A plea for a government line of ships in the Pacific which would prevent excessive transcontinental railroad rates was made today before the house committee on internal commerce by W. A. Mears, of the Seattle chambers of commerce.

Mears said if the government operated steamers to the Isthmus of Panama, connection could be made with Atlantic steamers via the Isthmian railroad in such manner as to settle the rate problem.

NEW YORK MAY KILL INCOME AMENDMENT

ALBANY, N. Y., May 4. — The assembly has killed the federal income tax resolution amendment. The proposition failed to receive by one vote the required 76 votes for its recommendation, but the senate today adopted the resolution, making its passage still possible.

FEAR PHYSICAL RY. VALUATION

Regulars Plan Great Fight as This Amendment Is Scented in the Senate Today

GREAT SCRAP IN PROGRESS

Taft Talks Veto and "Regulars" Blame Him for Their Predicament in Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Senator La Folette today predicted that the stock and bond regulation features of the Taft-Elkins railroad bill will follow the two sections eliminated yesterday.

"Those sections," he said, "are a pretense. Ostensibly they are intended to regulate stock and bond issues and prevent over-capitalization. As a matter of fact these sections are intended to make it possible still further to water the stocks of the roads."

As to the sections eliminated yesterday, La Follette declared:

"They were too hot for the regulars to handle. That's the long and short of it. Both features have been hammered so hard that the regulars could not stand the strain and could not deliver the votes."

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—With a hot fight over the physical valuation of railroads in the senate at hand, with the Taft cabinet angry and chagrined over what they term the emasculation of the administration railroad bill, and with President Taft giving our a veiled suggestion that if the measure as passed is not satisfactory to him he will veto it, the prized pet legislation of the inner circle is today the center of a controversy fiercer than that inspired by the fight on the tariff bill.

An attempt is being made to whitewash the Taft bill by saying that it was conceived by Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission. The fact is that Knapp did offer some suggestions, one of which was the clause requiring the physical valuation of railroad properties, which at the suggestion of railroad influences was stricken out by President Taft and his advisors.

The "Balance"

The original plan was to "strike a balance" with the railroads by which the bill should include the provision for the absorption of one road by another when fifty per cent of the stock was already owned. On the other side of the scales was to be the "physical valuation" propo-

MAKE TAFT THE GOAT

WASHINGTON, May 4.— "The Regulars" lay upon President Taft blame for the riddling of the railroad bill. They criticise his present pleasure trip. They say he seems indifferent to the situation and has no sense of responsibility. When the president, called at Pittsburg over the long distance telephone, lightly answered that the wrecking of the railroad bill could be charged to the insurgents, the leaders of the regulars were in a mood to throw up their hands and surrender the entire legislative program. Then Taft's smiling suggestion that "some kind of a bill" could be passed added to their anger, and they are aroused to the pitch of declaring that they will read the riot act to Taft when he gets back to town.

PROSECUTION IN GRAFT CASES ENDS

Nearly All Marinette Actions are Quashed by Judge Hastings on Demurrers

MARINETTE, May 4.—Practically all the remaining indictments in the grand jury cases here were quashed by Judge Hastings on demurrers, and the prosecution came to an abrupt and unexpected ending.

There are two counts remaining against Thomas Brown, former sheriff, and they may not be tried at this term. The only other case against former Sheriff Seibel was nolled by the state. There were two indictments against former Sheriff Brown, one against former Assemblyman and Supervisor Fred Price and one against F. E. Noyes, editor of the Eagle-Star. The state will appeal to the supreme court on the ruling, and the decision on all but one case was reserved by Judge Hastings.

It is generally believed that this is the last will that will be heard of the cases. In the case against F. E. Noyes further arguments are to be heard, although the demurrer on one point has already been sustained and the case quashed, but Mr. Noyes's attorneys insist on a ruling on other points as they desire to show that in no way could he be accussed of anything more than overcharge for publishing the tax list. It is generally admitted that the court will so rule and thus relieve the defendant of even an implication of anything more than a mistake in rendering bills for printing the tax list.

Out of all the indictments returned by the grand jury only one conviction and one plea of guilty was secured and both the defendants paid fines.

BODY UNEARTHED MAY BE MURDER

KENOSHA, Wis., May 4.—What is expected to be an unusual murder story was unearthed when workmen working on a sewer on Elizabeth street unearthed the body of a man.

The man had been dead for some time and the body was so badly decomposed as to make any indentification impossible. In addition to this the body had been packed in quickline when it was buried in a hole less than three feet deep.

At the top of the head was a great hole which pierced the skull, which appeared to have been made with a knife.

DEMOCRATS LOSE OUT IN ST. PAUL

Republicans Elect Herbert P. Keller Mayor Together with Rest of the Ticket

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 4.—Significant and dramatic in its completeness and unexpectedness, the republicans of St.Paul won a victory yesterday which leaves nothing to be desired by the G. O. P. supporters. Herbert P. Keller, republican nominee for mayor, was elected over Henry G. Haas by a majority of approximately five thousand. It was a landslide for the republicans.

Mr. Keller was not only elected mayor but he appears to have carried most of the ticket with him, with the possible exception of the candidate for city comptroller, who may have been defeated by the democratic nominee.

It was the hottest election in year Returns early this morning indicate that the democrats have returned a majority of nine in the assembly.

It was stated this morning that Richard T. O'Connor, widely known as "Dick" and the "Cardinal," boss of democratic politics here, is a sick man. It is said that the strain of the recent campaign was such as to undermine his health and that it may be necessary to undergo an operation.

When put in the sweatbox by the county attorney he admitted he was responsible for the fires.

PROPOSE TO OPEN MANY STREETS

Resolutions Read at Last Night's Council Meeting and Referred; After Hard Property

At a special meeting of the council last night, called for the purpose of taking preliminary steps in condemning the Hart property on the river front for park purposes, resolutions providing for the opening of five streets and three alleys were read and referred to the streets and alleys committee, which will consider them with another special committee of three members and report at the next regular meeting next week. City Attorney Doherty stated that the resolutions for the opening of the streets and alleys were presented at this time so that one jury and one set of appraisers could finish up the work that the city contemplated doing in this line.

Alderman Tarbox protested vigorously last night to the opening of all these streets and it is not assured that all the resolutions will be passed at the next meeting of the council. Following are the streets and alleys which the city proposes to open:

Fifteenth, from Denton to Green Bay.

Eleventh, from Tyler to Farnam.

Sixteenth, from Denton to Farnam.

St. James, from Berlin to Charles.

Car, from Rose to Caledonia.

Following are the new alleys desired:

From Island street north to St. Andrew, in the block west of Mill street.

From Market to Winnebago street, in the block lying between Fifth and Sixth streets.

Another resolution provided for the condemnation of the Hart property.

All the resolutions were referred to the committee on streets and alleys with the understanding that they will be reported at the next regular meeting.

Upon motion of Alderman Houska a special committee of three members consisting of Aldermen Kroner, Tarbox and Smith was appointed by the mayor to work with the streets and alley committee on this matter.

This Prescription Is Excellent For All Nervous Ailments.

The list of physical ills which can be traced almost entirely to deranged, overtaxed nerves is a long one. The more common forms are these: Plain "nervousness," sleeplessness, nervous headache, nervous debility, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, neuralgia and hysteria.

The simple nervine given below will give immediate relief and can be used without fear of any evil effects.

Make a strong tea of hops by steeping five cents' worth of Hops in a pint of boiling water; strain thoroughly. Then in an 8-ounce bottle (exactly half-pint) put 2 ozs. of Thargol Compound and fill up the bottle with the Hop Tea. Try two teaspoonfuls four times daily.

This simple combination forms a plain, but very powerful nervine, entirely fret from opiates, narcotics or other dangerous drugs. Yet it is very prompt in its results, and does its work without exposing the sufferer to the danger of forming drug habits. For this reason it is, at least, well worth trying, in view of its small cost—about 55 cents. Many people have found it worth a barrel of more pretentious and costly remedies.

Use only the ingredients given; otherwise the above prescription can not possess its full effectiveness.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The skin is composed of two distinct layers. One is known as the epidermis, or outer skin, which has no fibres, and serves principally as a covering to the body, and a protection from outward dangers to the delicate flesh beneath. The other layer is known as the derma, or true skin, and is composed of elastic fibres, fat tissue, glands, lymphatics, nerves, etc. The thousands of tiny veins and arteries with which it is interlaced constantly supply every fibre and tissue with healthful properties from the circulation to keep the skin smooth and perfect.

This is changed, however, when the blood becomes infected with humors, acids or impurities. Instead of constantly supplying rich, nutritive properties to the skin, the circulation deposits the acrid impurity with which it is contaminated, into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes irritation and inflammation, which splits or breaks the thin outer cuticle, while the tissues beneath ulcerate and discharge upon the surface in the form of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, etc. There is likewise a dry form of skin diseases, such as Acne, Psoriasis, etc. In these varieties the humor in the blood diseases and inflames the glands, hair follicles, etc., causing them to swell and protrude to the outer surface. Pimples, rashes, eruptions and like troubles, are all dependent on imperfect blood, and no one can have a good complexion, free from humiliating blemishes, unless the skin is kept healthy by good blood.

S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to normal strength, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated, inflamed and diseased by acrid impurities or fiery humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by a cooling, health, tream of blood. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein li is its ability to cure skin diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

S.S.S. CURED HER.

Some time ago I was troubled with a severe skin affection called Acne. Small pimples would appear on my face and neck which would in time fester and become inflamed. My complexion was muddy and sallow and most unsightly. I chanced to read about S.S.S., and concluded to give it a trial; the result was entirely satisfactory, my complexion soon becoming clear, the pimples disappearing, and my skin became soft and smooth. I cannot too highly recommend S.S.S. to any who are likewise afflicted.

THE LA FOLLETTE SHAFT

The sudden surrender of Senator Aldrich and his associates in the face of Senators Cummins' and La Follette's irresistible assault upon the iniquities of the Taft railroad bill, will be generally accepted as evidence that the old order of things in congress is at an end, that dictation of legislation by a few pro- monopoly leaders is over and that popular rule is being inaugurated. However, there was made apparent in the news dispatches yesterday the possibility that back of these concessions is a sinister motive affecting the saving of what the railroads regard as a more important interest than any sought to be created or conserved in the original bill.

It is broadly intimated that while the merger and rate agreement clauses were permitted yesterday to be stricken from the bill without contest, pursuant to demands made by insurgent senators, all the forces which it is possible for Aldrich to muster will be fortified in resistance of a single clause inserted in the bill last week by the house: The La Follette idea for the physical valuation by the government of all interstate railroads.

The railroads regard the passage of this La Follette plank as a vital blow at their business. Obviously there can be no accurate adjustment of rates by government without, as a basis, accurate knowledge as to the valuation of the properties, for the fairness of the returns of any business depends upon the value of the investment. Permit the railroads to value their investment as high as they please, and they can always show that a rate is reasonable by padding the investment, and by the quotation of watered stock upon the same basis as stock for which the face value has actually been paid.

In the face of a fight that seemed likely to win, the "regulars" were bending themselves assiduously to the task of forcing the Taft bill as originally drawn through congress. They suddenly desisted, and that they should thus give up without fighting to the last ditch raises a presumption of the existence of ulterior motives. Nothing that the Taft bill could give them would offset the disadvantage to them of the incorporation in the law of the La Follette valuation idea, and we predict that from now on the fight on the railroad bill will be centered upon this important feature.

THE LORIMER AFFAIR

That people generally must discredit the claim of Mr. White that he accepted a bribe from men in behalf of Senator Lorimer in no way affects the case of Lorimer. The one interest in all White's allegations is as to their truth. Be White every whit the scalawag Lorimer and his friends say he is, his exposure of this alleged corruption that goes to the very heart of our national organization is none the less important. The cuttlefish contortions of Lorimer, Browne, Wilson and other Illinoisians affected by his charges should be futile. The grand jury should never mind the pot, but get after the kettle.

It is hardly among the possibilities that in this age of legal technicalities a man so great and wealthy as Senator Lorimer may be brought to book and found guilty, put back of the bars. The chances are that Browne and Wilson will have to be the goats, if goats there be, so far as that sort of punishment allotted to criminals of the common herd is concerned, but it is quite within the fire of possibilities that Mr. Lorimer may have to give up his toga.

It didn't matter much whether it was Hopkins or Lorimer who went to the senate. Both were standpatters and neither represents public sentiment in boss-ridden Illinois. Hopkins was charged with buying the primary, and now Lorimer is charged with buying the legislature. Six and half a dozen.

White's story is plausible. The too hasty interviews of Lorimer, Browne and Wilson are not. It is to be hoped that all the facts may be uncovered, and justice done. But if that is impossible, Illinois should, as a result of the White charges, at least find relief from corrupt misrepresentation in congress.

LISTEN HERE

"The public conscience is keener than it formerly was and it no longer contemplates with complacency the spectacle of a member of the country's highest legislative body holding his place as the result of fraud. It may suspect that there are others no more honest that Lorimer, but the lack of proof against them is no longer to be taken as justification for permitting the member against whom sworn charges are presented to hold his position unchallenged."—Leader-Press.

Comparisons are odious, and therefore we hesitated to make a suggestion similar to the above. But isn't this poor requital for a $600 bonus upon journalistic enterprise?

The death in the prize ring of a California fighter is causing some worry to the promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, and well it should. Public sentiment has been aroused to such an extent that an effort may be made to compel the governor of California to enforce the law. Humanity and common decency reinforce this movement. Murder by Queensbury rules should be abolished.

SPOTLIGHTS

"THE MAN WHO WINS"

The play to be presented by the Wm. Grew Stock Co. Thursday evening and for the latter part of this week, is Kyrle Bellow's greatest comedy drama, "The Man Who Wins." It is somewhat on the order of "Raffles" but has been considered a greater play by all the critics. The play has plenty of heart interest, and the comedy serves to refresh, rather than detract from the interest of the performance. The part of Ned Danvers, in which Mr. Bellew was seen in the east, will be played by Mr. Grew.

The performance given by Mr. Grew in this part has been compared with that of Mr. Bellew. Miss Mable Cullen will be seen as Norma Gray, the society girl who falls in love with "The Man Who Wins."

Commencing Sunday matinee, the Wm. Grew Stock Co. will present Dick Ferris greatest military comedy drama, "Way Out West." Matinees every Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

FOOLS MINNESOTA OFFICIALS

Vardaman, the female impersonator who is attracting so much attention at the Majestic theater this week, while playing at St. Paul last year had the pleasure of seeing all the sights of the Minnesota capitol in the guise of a beautiful young lady and deceiving Secretary Day and the Mayor of the city. In telling of the incident Vardaman said, "I put on a very light make-up for the affair and entering a carriage was driven to the capitol building. As I entered all the men at the elevator lifted their hats out of due respect to a lady. Arriving at the late Governor Johnson's office, I was informed by Private Secretary Day that the governor was out. Mr. Day, however, was very nice, showing me everything of interest and giving me many souvenirs of the governor and the building. I was introduced as Miss Marjorie Vardaman, you see. Upon leaving he assured me that I would be welcome at any time I wished to call and when I bade him good-bye he made eyes at me and squeezed my hand. The next day when the story appeared in the papers, the joke was on Day and he bought me the cigars."

Mr. Vardaman first played the part of a woman at an amateur performance at Butte, Mont., several years ago and the success of the event caused him to try it in vaudeville with success. It is now one of the features at an all star program at the Majestic this week.

While playing in the south many peoplpe would ask Mr. Vardaman if he were a nephew of Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi and he would always reply, "No, I am his niece."

"While playing at San Francisco last year, I had the pleasure of routing a summer hotel pest, who was always bothering the women," said Vardaman today. "They called him a pest because he was so polite that none of the women could become insulted at his remarks and none of the men dared to thrash him because of his politeness. They were all helpless. When I appeared they solicited my aid. I put on one of my make-ups and lay in wait for the masher. He soon appeared and tried to 'butt in.' I encouraged him a little and soon had him making violent love to me. All the men and women had been stationed in favorable positions to see what would occur. At the proper moment, my supposed husband, a husky Irishman, happened upon the scene and Mr. Masher was caught. He never bothered that summer hotel again and we saw no more of him."

Vardaman has nothing about him that suggests the woman. He has a pleasing voice and a good build, and looks decidedly masculine in his street attire. A twenty-five inch corset causes considerable difference in his figure, which on the stage is good. He uses no padding, whatever, the desired effect being secured by lacing. "The only trouble," said he, "is that I have to carry two entire wardrobes."

Back to the City

I've had my fill of the simple life,
And it's back to the town for me;
Back where the song of the lark gives way
To the business melody;
Back where at sunrise every morn,
The whistle of the quail
Gives way to the whistle that says "Dig in,"
To the man with the dinner pail.

I've had my fill of the simple life
Green fields and running brooks;
It looks all right as they show it up
In the colored picture books;
But give me the game that is fierce and fast,
Where you'll find that this is true;
If you don't "get" the other man first,
You can bet that he'll "get" you.

Yes,—I've had my fill of the simple life,
And its me for the madding whirl,
Where the only "Call of the Wild" we hear
Is the voice of the "Hello Girl."
Back to the busy marts of trade,
Back 'mid the clam'ring throng,
Where the feet that set the pace keep time
To the clang of the fire gong.

No Salad For Him

Irishmen are by no means the sole perpetrators of bulls, but they generally make the best ones—or at least the best ones are attributed to them.

Of this sort is one found by a writer in the Boston Record.

"Pat, do you like lettuce?"

"No, sor, Oi don't; and what's more, Oi'm glad Oi don't; for av Oi did, Oi'd ate it.—and Oi hate the stuff!"

If I Were Only Fish

"No, sir, I can't see any sense in chasing a bunch of wild creatures around a jungle and shooting holes in them. If there is sport in the thing I fail to recognize it."

"I guess you don't like Roosevelt."

"Yes, I do. But I don't like a wilful waste of life."

"Probably you have never done any hunting."

"Hunting! Certainly not! I'm an angler."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Experienced Man

"How do you conquer your elephant when he goes on a rampage?" I asked the menagerie proprietor.

"We avail ourselves of an experienced baggage man," he replied.

"An experienced baggage man?" I replied with wonderment.

"Yes," he explained patiently, although it was evident that he was nettled by my stupidity, "we get a man who knows how to smash trunks."

How it Happened

Rodrick—How did Perkins come to enjoy those rank cigars his wife gave him for a Christmas present?"

Van Albert—Why, you know each cigar came in a celluloid tube.

Rodrick—Ah, I see.

Van Albert—Yes, and he smoked the celluloid tubes by mistake.—Chicago Daily News.

Generous

"Come here, Tommy," called his mother from the edge of the pond, as she concealed the birch switch behind her.

"What do you want, ma?" asked the little boy, suspiciously.

"I want to give you something."

"I—I ain't doing nuttin', ma!"

"Then I shall be even more liberal. I am going to give you something for nothing."—Chicago Daily News.

Probably Not

"Hello!"

"Hello!"

"Is that you, Maria?"

"Yes, John, and you have been drinking again."

"How do you know?"

"By your breath."

"You can't make me believe you can detect it on my breath at the distance of four miles."

"No; but I can hear the wire shriveling."—Chicago Tribune.

A Bright Shine for Nickel Plate.

Nickel faucets and bathroom fixtures are ornamental so long as they are kept bright. The trouble is to keep them bright. There are many substances on the market which profess to keep plated ware in bright, shiny condition, but most of them are to be avoided as they contain harsh, gritty substances which scratch the nickel and silver plate. Warm suds of Gold Dust washing powder and water will, however, clean these fixtures thoroughly and safely. If they are dim, rub a little of the Gold Dust directly on the surface, rinse and rub dry with a piece of soft linen or flannel. Nickel lightly washed each week in Gold Dust and water, and wiped with a soft cloth, will never get dull or need hard rubbing, but will be easy to keep bright and clean as a piece of glass.

HIDE THE BUTCHERY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Philippopolis, May 3.—The government today denied the foreign military attaches permission to accompany the Turkish troops into Albania, where practically a civil war is raging. The refusal is considered indicative of terrible atrocities by both the soldiers and the rebels, knowledge of which the government hopes to keep from the world.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES.

BY HERBERT QUICK

COPYRIGHT BY BOBBS-MERRILL CO

"What would you do now?" he asked. "Play we're kids going after tigers—and finding them?"

Now that he had found the Hold, Carson was too much at a loss to reply. He would not ask admission—and he had no idea that he would be admitted if he did. But he must see Virginia. Utterly estranged as they were, this night voyage had a reason—the hope of seeing her, of asking her forgiveness, of bringing her to see that when she dropped from the sky to his feet, he had loved her, that when she had come to live with that uncle of whom she had heard so little, and had found the last Carson in him, the temptation was so masked in duty that it was too strong for him. And had he ever once in that delicious, perilous time of acting "Uncle Theodore," inexcusably presumed on the relationship, or failed in goodness? True, he had let her stay as his niece; but had not his father always thought himself of the same blood? Virginia must allow some weight to this tradition. She must see that, while too remotely related to be objectionable in a nearer, dearer way, he was too probably of kin to have turned her away. And, surely, when once he could look in her eyes, all the dear, disguised avowals and acceptances in the mistaken past must make him something better than a stranger. He would land in Shayne's Hold, if it were the last act of his life.

With the ancient instinct of the surreptitious lover, he made for the angle between two dark wings of the great house. Glimmers of light from two windows were their sole sign of occupancy; the center of human concourse being about that core of light in the court. The wings seemed like low adjuncts for conservatories or billiard-rooms; and the angle between, with its light mottlings, looked like a flower-sprinkled lawn, on which Carson felt confident of placing the Virginia gently, and with no disturbance. Beyond this he had been too much engrossed in the management of the aeronef to make plans. With a slow soaring motion she came into the angle like a steamer into her slip—and found, instead of a lawn, a graveled roof cluttered with tables and chairs as if for the serving of refreshments. Among these the Virginia nosed in, dumped some chairs, a table and two potted palms into the court, and settled down amid crackling furniture and crashing pottery—a beautiful landing, in a rather unsuitable spot.

Craighead leaped out on the roof.

"Let's run!" said he, in a stage whisper. "They must have heard that, and if they catch us, we're in for it!"

"Stay here," said Carson, in a low tone. "If we must, we can fly in the Virginia. I'll see if anything's broken!"

The Roc had reached Shayne's Hold just in time to escape the storm, and the wearied Virginia had retired, sick of the harping of her aunt upon the disgrace of her sojourn with "Uncle Theodore;" weary of telling how innocent it had been, how gentle and considerate he was, how idyllic their life would always seem—all in spite of her anger at Mr. Carson. She had taken dinner on the roof, watching the march of the storm, wondering where that airship was, in which she and some one had so nearly met their death. She was angry, and she despised Theodore, but she hoped he was safe, that his campaign for the control of the air against her uncle might succeed—though that seemed the wildest presumption. While her maid prepared her for bed, she thought how much happier she had been at Carson's Landing, with no attention save an ewer of hot water brought up by old Chloe.

Her uncle had spoken of a wireless message from Wizner at Mobile, relating no doubt to Theodore and the Virginia; and she was horrified to think that he could keep up communication with the man who had tried to murder both her and Theodore. With a book close to the light, she was composing her mind to sleep, when into the dreamy quietude came a purring that was so unmistakably the voice of the aeronef that Virginia rose, with her hand to her heart, in an amazement not all unpleasant, wondering where her namesake might alight, and what Shayne's hired constabulary might do with Theodore—when from the roof came a scraping as if all the furniture were being moved at once; chairs and tables went over the parapet with a crash—and the voices of Craighead and Carson came in at the window, low, hurried and agitated.

There was a hustling in the lower hall, as people ran to the windows that gave on the court, and rushed out to see what had fallen. Virginia turned out the dim light—I wonder why?

"Well," said she, in answer to her maid's tap, "what is it, Fanny?"

"I 'eared an awful noise," said Fanny. "It seemed to come from 'ere, Miss."

"Some things fell into the court," replied Virginia. "Please tell the servants; and say that things must not be piled upon the parapet. That's all, Fanny."

"Are you quite sure, Miss—"

"Yes, yes! Run at once and tell them. I am quite in earnest, Fanny!"

Fanny's footsteps went out of hearing; and Virginia walked to the window. There lay the dear little air-ship, that she and Theodore had planned campaigns for, and conquered the world with. This wing, which had poked so nearly through her window, was the very one upon which she had hung, to test the balancing—and she reached out and patted it with her hand. Theodore was passing the other way, now, moving chairs and tables, peering into every bearing and gearing for signs of damage. Craighead was skirting the parapet as if looking for a staircase.

"It's a miracle," said Theodore, at last, "but she's all right and ready to rise at a touch!"

"Thank God!" said Virginia.

"Did you find a way down?" asked Carson, all unconscious of the nearness of what he sought.

"Only the old way by which I came off the back stoop of the emporium," replied Craighead. "It's a matter of specific gravity. As to getting back, unless you brought your specific levity with you, I really don't see, old chap, how it's going to be managed."

"Once down I can force my way up," said Theodore, raising his voice in his intensity. "Do you think I'll go back without seeing her? No! You stay here, and—"

"Mr. Craighead!"

FAMILY FOOD

Crisp, Toothsome and Requires no Cooking

A little boy down in N. C. asked his mother to write an account of how Grape-Nuts food had helped their family.

She says Grape-Nuts was first brought to her attention in Charlotte, where she visited.

"While I was there I used the food regularly. I gained about 15 pounds and felt so well that when I returned home I began using Grape-Nuts in the family regularly.

"My little 18-months-old baby shortly after being weaned was very ill with dyspepsia and teething. She was sick nine weeks and we tried everything. She became so emaciated that it was painful to handle her and we thought we were going to lose her. One day a happy thought urged me to try Grape-Nuts soaked in a little warm milk.

"Well, it worked like a charm and she began taking it regularly and improvement set in at once. She is now getting well and round and fat as fast as possible and on Grape-Nuts.

"Sometime ago several of the family were stricken with La Grippe at the same time, and during the worst stages we could not relish anything in the shape of food but Grape-Nuts and oranges, everything else nauseating us.

"We all apreciate what your famous food has done for our family."

SECTION GANG REPLACED AT "Q"

No Difficulty Is Experienced in Securing Foreign Labor for Railroad Work

When the white men employed on the railroad work of the Burlington road at Grand Crossing walked out Monday evening as the result of being refused a raise in wages the road lost no time as another gang was ready the next mrning to take up the work where it was left by their predecessors. The roadmaster communicated with the Chicago employment agency and the next morning a crew of foreign laborers was in the city, ready to go to work.

"The day of local labor on the section gang or for double track work in this city is past," said an official of the road today. "We are hiring men every day, and men are quitting every day, but we are never in need of help. When we want them we can get any amount by notifying the Chicago employment agncies. We don't call that a strike. Those things happen every day and if the men want to quit we can't stop them. We have a full gang at work now and we find that these foreigners are more reliable than the white men. We depend mostly on this class of labor for our work."

BOARD IN FAVOR OF COMMISSION

Resolution Placing it on Record Is Adopted at a Meeting Held Last Evening

BUT NOT UNDER PRESENT LAW

Committee to Draft Amendments to Be Presented to the Next State Legislature

The board of trade adopted a resolution at its meeting following a six o'clock dinner last evening, going on record as favoring a commission form of government, but not under the present state law, which is considered defective. The original committee appointed to investigate the commission form of government, was authorized to prepare amendments, providing for a recall and other improvements in the law, and present them to the next legislature.

After the dinner the meeting was opened and the first order of business was the reading of the majority report on the commission government by Frank Winter. The report stated that the advantages to be derived from a commission form of government are: By the abolition of ward boundaries, better men run and are elected; by centralization of authority, responsibility is fixed; by reduction in number of high-salaried officials the choice of abler men, expense is lessened and efficiency is increased.

Immediately after the reading of the majority report A. H. Schubert submitted his minority report in which he said that the city of La Crosse ought not to adopt a commission form of government at present because the law provided by the state of Wisconsin is defective in the following respects:

First, It places too much power in the hands of three men;

Second, It does not provide for an efficient and impartial board of civil service examiners;

Third, The term of office is too long in the absence of such checks as the recall and the initiative;

Fourth, It does not definitely fix the responsibility of the officers chosen;

Fifth, the plan has not been tried and it will be better for the city of La Crosse to wait and watch results in Eau Claire. If it is successful there and the law is remedied in these important respects there will then be time enough for this city to adopt the same.

Mr. Schubert said he believed that some form of commission government would ultimately come in all cities and he believed the system to be a good one, but he did not think that the present Wisconsin law was satisfactory.

The Discussion Begins

Ex-Mayor Joseph Boschert was the first to open the discussion, taking the stand that the commission form of government is too much like the government of Russia and Turkey and he favored the majority

MAY DAY LUNCHEON

Mrs. Paul Pamperin was hostess at a most delightful luncheon given yesterday in honor of her aunt, Mrs. John L. Locher and her sister, Miss Nan Blumenfield of Milwaukee. Twenty-five guests were present. In the center of the long table in the dining room was a handsome crystal candelabrum with lighted tapers. At each guest's place was a small crystal candle stick, also a dainty little basket with a bunch of flowers tied upon the handle. After elaborate and delicious luncheon the tables were cleared and bridge cards passed to the guests. These were novel and original in lesign and consisted of a heart shaped card upon which was tied with narrow white ribbon, a cunning little Cupid with bow and arrow. All of the appointments were beautiful and attractive. After an afternoon at cards the prizes were given to Mrs. Locher and Mrs. Russell.

F. R. A. JOLLIFICATION

The Fraternal Reserve will hold a little jollification at their regular meeting Thursday night, celebrating the fact that the order has grown rapidly in membership and popularity. Arrangements will be made and ways and means discussed for giving several "out of doors' expeditions and parties, also basket picnics, during the summer months, when the opportunity will be given the ladies to play the postponed game of ball that was scheduled between the Will o' Wisps and Wind Jammers. A special umpire will draft up a set of rules for this occasion and decide whether hairpulling will be allowed during the game, and if it is permissible for any player to harpoon a rat with a hat pin, should the same become disconnected from any base runner. These 'out of doors" parties will this season be under the personal supervision of District Manager A. C. Radke.

GOVERNOR TO GET M'CALEB PROTEST

Attorney General Refuses to Act on Allegation of Grocers' Agreement in La Crosse

NO CONSPIRACY IS SHOWN

This Is Report Received by McCaleb, So He will Take it to Highest Executive

R. C. McCaleb, socialistic agitator, who recently filed complaint with District Attorney James Thompson asking for the prosecution of county supervisors who had received county money for supplies and on contracts, simultaneously filed formal complaint with the state attorney general alleging a conspiracy in restraint of trade existed between the grocers of La Crosse, that a "black list" was maintained, and the law was violated by the operation of the agreement regulating prices.

McCaleb announces today that the attorney general returned the case to District Attorney James Thompson with citations of the Birnbaum case. He declares Thompson after a short delay returned the matter to the attorney general advising that the decision of the circuit court here in the Birnbaum case had failed to show conspiracy. Yesterday McCaleb received a letter from the attorney general in which the stand of the local prosecutor was cited, and declaring action was not possible on the complaint, in view of the court decision and lack of further proofs.

McCaleb today declares that within a day or two he proposes to make a formal complaint to Governor Davidson, carrying his charges up to the chief executive of the state.

He will be Lord Curzon's guest at Basinstot in Hampshire, the guest of former Attache Arthur H. Lee of the British embassy in Washington, at Foreham, Whitelaw Reid's guest at both Dorchester house and Wrest Park in the country, Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey's guest in Northumberland and finally he will make a short stay with McMillan, who entertained him in Nairobi. This completes his social program.

TO END GAMBLING IN MONTE CARLO?

MONTE CARLO, May 4.—A Monte Carlo without a gambling device within its borders is a probability of the future if its ruler, Prince Albert, persists in his determination to cut off his son Louis from the successorship, owing to the latter's marriage to a common woman. Albert today reiterated his determination to have Duke Wilhelm, his next of kin, succeed him. As he is an absolute monarch, he can name his successor.

Duke Wilhelm is deeply religious and regards gambling as a deadly curse. If he ascenls the throne his first step will be to wipe out every gambling hall in the little principality.

The beer sales for March, 1910, beat all records for the same month in any previous year. They show an increase of nearly 8 per cent over the largest March sales previously recorded, which occurred in 1907. ANOTHER LOCK OUT

BOARD TO ASSIST THE ENUMERATORS

Harry Taggart Is Appointed Chairman of Committee to Visit Factories in City

The board of trade will take an active part in assisting the enumerators in obtaining a full count in La Crosse. At the request of Census Supervisor, who appeared before the meeting of the board of trade last evening, President Doerflinger today appointed Harry Taggart chairman of a committee to visit the large factories of the city and obtain all names of persons who have not been enumerated and report them to Mr. Winter. Mr. Taggart will appoint as many assistants as he deems necessary to carry on the work.

Mr. Winter announced to the board of trade that the same plan is being followed by the Commercial club of Minneapolis and many names have been obtained of persons who had not been found by the enumerators. He said he himself visited the plant of the La Crosse Plow company, where he secured the names of thirty persons who had not been included in the count. By a united effort, he said, La Crosse may add a thousand names to its population, which would otherwise be omitted.

While he is not in position to give out the figures obtained thus far he said the citizens would be surprised when they hear the returns in some sections of the city which they believed were not growing. He said he is anxious to make the best possible showing and the board of trade by its unanimous vote decided to help him in every way it can.

Late this afternoon the following additional members were appointed on the committee: W. F. Goodrich, Fred Heil, John Kindley and Frank G. Roth. The committee will meet in Secretary Utermoehl's office tomorrow morning to lay out the work.

SACK ESCAPE AT Y. M. C. A. POOL

Minerva Stunt to Be a Feature at Swimming Meet Tomorrow Night; Polo Game Too

All the officials for the big indoor swimming meet to be held at the Young Men's Christian Association, Thursday, May 5th, are chosen and have accepted. The men who are to enter the races are enthusiastic and while no records are expected to be broken, yet the experience derived from this meet may mean that La Crosse Y. M. C. A. will in the future have some national record holders in the swimming line.

A feature of the meet not yet spoken of, will be the tieing of a man in a big sack and throwing him in the water. It is a "stunt" which has "Minerva" and all such water tricks "beaten a mile," because the escape is accomplished in full view of the audience and is very bewildering. Seats are going fast and if the friends of the association wish to see this event, tickets must be spoken for a once, as no more than seventy-five can be sold. The officials are as folloys:

BANGOR DEFEATED BY WEST SALEM

WEST SALEM, Wis., May 4. — One of the most interesting games of ball played here in the last few years was played yesterday afternoon at the ball grounds between the high school teams of Bangor and West Salem.

In the eighth inning Salem changed their pitchers. Hilderbrant, though pitching a good game, was relieved by Nye, who held the Bangor team scoreless for three innings. In the ninth inning a base on balls and a few wild throws tied the score for Salem. The tenth started out in great style for Bangor, but the second man got on base and the two following were struck out in succession. Sander was the first man to bat for Salem, and he got cut. Fischer was also out. Nye was the next man up and beat out a short hit. He stole second and went to third on wild pitch. Hilderbrant who was at bat was hit with the ball and while the crowd were arguing over whether he struck at it, Nye stole home and ended the game. Fischer was hit with a foul tip in his Adam's apple and hurt, but not very seriously.

Score by innings:

West Salem	0061000111—10
Bangor	1030122000— 9

Batteries—West Salem, Hilderbrant, Nye, and Fischer and Nye. Bangor, Ottmar Stinzi and Kurantz.

SALZER'S FRUIT CROP IS HARMED

The Salzers, who are interested in a large orchard proposition in central Missouri, have reports from their manager that Missouri Pippins, Champions, Russets and Greenings will be about 50 per cent of a crop, Ben Davies 25 per cent and Black Twigs 15 per cent, that the average throughout the orchard of 600 acres would be about 35 per cent.

To this the manager adds: "I think they will show up better than that later on, because the apples will grow so much larger when there are not so many on the trees.

Young men who stay out all night will soon be all in.

The success of a scheme depends largely upon the man behind it.

DEMOCRATS MAY OPPOSE CHANGE

Party in Power will Fight Commission Form of Government, It Is Said

Because they believe it might offer a chance whereby they would lose control of the city government, managers of the democratic party are reported to be preparing to oppose adoption of the commission form here should it come to a vote.

It is stated today that the republicans, who in the past have been unable to gain control of the reins of government will favor the change in the system, with the hope of gaining control by the selection of republican commissioners.

If reports are true the fight will be between the parties if the proposition comes to a vote next spring.

FEAR PHYSICAL RY. VALUATION

sition, so much desired by the interstate commerce commission.

This little arrangement has been upset when the railroads secured the withdrawal of the "physical valuation" feature. Then, after the Cummins-La Follette fight on it, the absorption feature was removed. Then the house re-established the "physical valuation" feature as an amendment and upon it heavy fighting is expected. Attorney General Wickersham when asked for an expression today regarding the changes said:

Wickersham's Idea

"If they keep on it will be like the story of the old rung musket."

Then he told this story:

"A father showed his son an old fashioned musket with a band that held the barrel to the stock. 'Your great grand father carried that in the revolutionary war,' he said. The boy observed that the lock, stock and barrel were all new and pinning his father down, forced him to tell just what part of it really was in the revolution. 'Well,' admitted the parent, 'I guess that rung there is about all.'"

Senate to Debate

Suggestions of the physical valuation of railroads as an amendment to the Taft-Elkins bill in the senate today brought up visions of about thirty days of debate. It has been inserted in the house bill and it is being awaited with fierce emotions by friend and foe in the senate. Only the tariff offers a larger range for views pro and con.

Physical valuation of a railroad means an appraisement of its actual real property, lands, tracks, buildings, shops and rolling stock. It does not consider good will, franchise value or the value of stocks and bonds issued by the company.

ROYALTY GREETS THE ROOSEVELTS

King and Queen of Norway Meet Him at Station and Reception is Genuinely Warm

(By a Staff Correspondent of the United Pres.)

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, May 4.—King Haaken and Queen Maud were the first to greet Col. Roosevelt and his family when they arrived at noon today after a 15 hours' ride from Copenhagen.

No greater honors could have been shown the colonel had he been the king of England. In fact, the enthusiasm of the people would hardly have been so great, for it is not recalled that any royal visitor caused such a demonstration as today's.

The streets from the station to the palace were packed and even the house tops were crowded with thousands who cheered the colonel and forced him to bow and doff his hat constantly.

King Haaken was actually the first to shake the han of the colonel at the station. He immediately introduced Roosevelt to the Queen, the colonel in return presenting the members of his family to the king who then introduced them to the queen. Roosevelt and the king wore plain frock suits, while the queen wore a simple street dress.

A luncheon at the American embassy attended by the king and queen and a royal dinner given to the Roosevelt tonight is the program. Col. Rooseveit will deliver his Nobel Peace address tomorrow.

BOY'S EYE HURT

Michael Belinski, a lad residing in the southern end of the city, was struck in the face while playing baseball yesterday afternoon and one of his eyes seriously injured.

Such an inventory would be of great service to the interstate commerce commission indetermining rates just to the people and yielding a fair profit to the railroad company on its actual investment.

Mann Defends Plan

"A physical valuation would not be the only factor, but it would be controlling factor in fixing rates," said Representative Mann (R., Ill.) author of the amendment adopted by the house. The Mann amendment directs the interstate commerce commission to make the valuation and consider therein the actual cost of construction, amount expended in "permanent improvements, betterments and extensions," amount of earnings and the extent to which such earnings are represented by the stocks and bonds in the treasury of the railroad. It shall ascertain the original cost and value of the right of way and terminal grounds and their present value and the present value exclusive of improvements.

For five years the interstate commerce commission in its annual report, has recommended that congress authorize it to make such valuation of railroad property.

A number of states, including Wisconsin, Michigan and Texas, have made valuations of railroad property. New Jersey is now engaged in a similar work at a cost of $300,000.

Why They Fear It

Railroads have fought the proposition to the full extent of their means, wherever it has appeared. Their great plaint is that it would have the effect of reducing rates below a fair standard and that their stockholders would suffer injustice. A more potent reason for their dread, the proponents declare, is fear that the tax gatherers and the public will thus learn the real value of their property and the extent of the "water" in their stock issues.

Advocates of valuation contend that it is manifestly impossible for the government to fix a just rate unless the status of the investment upon which that rate is to earn a fair divident is known.

Taft May Use Veto

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 4.—"Just now, having been away from Washington for several days, I do not know exactly how things stand in regard to the railroad bill. When I return to Washington, however, I will look over the entire bill with the changes that have been made. We are either going to have a satisfactory railroad bill or none at all."

President Taft today thus summed up his feling regarding to fight med up his feling regard ing fight ident's conversation it is evident that he feels he did his duty in fathering the railroad bill and recommending it for passage. If it is maltreated by the legislators he can't help it, but he does not have to sign it.

WILL GIVE CLEAN ADMINISTRATION

Frank J. Webber Says that Is what Socialists Are Trying to Do in Milwaukee

That the socialists will give the city of Milwaukee the best administration it has ever had is the opinion of Frank J. Webber of Milwaukee, state labor organizer, who came here yesterday afternoon and addressed the woodworkers at a meeting last evening. "The work that has been carried on is at last bearing fruit in the city of Milwaukee," said Mr. Webber, when interviewed by a Tribune reporter. "The trades and labor unions of the city of Milwaukee realized that for years they have been throwing their votes away by voting for the capitalists, or the two old political parties. They have finally decided to take hold of the political situation in a way which would do something for the workers themselves. The trade unions realize that if they desire to maintain their positions as economical organizations they will have to use their political power. Today it has been shown that they must have economic power and also political power if they wish to receive a little more than that which they produce.

"In Milwaukee the socialist party will endeavor to give a clean administration and advocate progressive ideas and organize them as far as the statutory laws of the state will allow. The election of the socialist ticket in Milwaukee does not mean that the socialists will have full control because there are many things that cannot be done because the laws will not permit them. We expect to do all we can under the present laws and bring about amendments which will better the conditions of all classes.

"The socialists believe that the streets of the city, the police and fire departments and the public schools have been socialized for a common good and if it has been good for the people to do these things it will be better to socialize more institutions.

"A very simple example of socialism may be given in the following: Let us suppose that a building is to be moved and $200 is to be paid for the labor. Twenty men do the work, one furnishing the plank, another the rollers, another the jack screws and one the rope. Each furnishes a part of the tools. It requires three days to move the building and when the job is finished each man receives $10 for his work. Then one of the men begins to figure that if he owned all the tools to do the job he could hire the twenty men and pay each man $2 per day, making $6 for the three days' work. This would figure up $120 for the twenty men and the remaining $80 would go down the pocket of the employer, who worked no harder than the other men, but still he gets $74 more. This we believe is unjust and each man employed in doing this work should receive the same amount of pay for his labor.

"In Milwaukee this year we expect to elect two congressmen and a number of assemblymen. The public sentiment has changed wonderfully with reference to socialism since the election in Milwaukee and concessions are now made that people would never have even considered before the election of the ticket in the city of Milwaukee."

Now Is The Time To Paint

Spring has come early this year and the summer-like days furnish a remarkable opportunity to do your season's painting now before the arrival of flies and gnats or the summer rains. When you come to select your paint, remember that you are not to judge it by price per gallon, but by surface covered and length of service. The principle cost of painting is in the labor. How foolish it is then to waste expensive labor by putting on cheap paint. How foolish to select a hand mixture when you can get machine made paint more thoroughly mixed and ready for the brush, insuring economy in spreading, ease in applying and gradual wear.

Such paint can be had by specifying Lowe Brothers "High Standard" for which we have the agency—a make that stands the severest tests of paint efficiency both practical and theoretical. Just like it—the best for its purpose—are all the other Lowe Brothers' products.

NORMALS DEFEAT HIGH BALL TEAM

Take Seven Inning Game by Score of 7 to 5; Busy Times at La Crosse High School

The normal school baseball team defeated the high school team on the latter's grounds by a score of 7 to 5 yesterday afternoon. Sloggy, pitching for the normals, although wild at times was effective when he could put the ball over the plate, as was shown by the fact that the highs got by two hits. In addition to this he struck out thirteen men. Robt. Ray, who twirled for the highs also pitched a good game, but had very ragged support, eight misplays being made.

The game was called at the end of the seventh inning by agreement.

The lineup was as follows:

Normal school: Olson, second base; Shallock, center field; Bovee, left field; Sloggy, pitcher; Huber, catcher; Schmitz, first base; Egelberg, shortstop; Miller, third base; Stoops, right field.

High school: Schwalbe, left field; Stavrum, short stop; Chamberlain, first base; Egstad, right field; Erickson, Bradish, second base; Goldfberg, center field; Kelley, catcher; Ray, pitcher. Score:

High School Doings

A meeting of the primary teachers was held at the high school yesterday afternoon. The time was taken up discussing music and drawing work.

The class oratorical and declamatory contests will be held on Thursday, the final contest being held on Friday.

The tryout for places in the city meet next Saturday was held at the high school yesterday afternoon, much good talent being displayed. From indications, the highs will be well represented in the contest.

Although the manager of the high school baseball team tried to secure a game with Caledonia, it is likely that the game will not be played, as railroad connections to that town are poor. Instead, the faculty will probably be played in the morning, as the field meet will be held in the afternoon.

Darby Has a Suspicion that He May Kick Over the Traces, so Gets Jaenicke, Rock Island

DULUTH, Minn., May 4.—Pitcher Jaenicke, owned by the Rock Island club of the Three I league, will report for a trial with the Duluth team today at Duluth. A. W. Kuehnow received a wire from the flinger last night stating that he would get here as soon as possible. A deal for Jaenicke has been pending for some time and the possibility that Don Marion might kick over the traces and refuse to work for the Duluth team hurried along the negotiations. It is said that "Rube's" experience in the big league, which consisted of reporting to Bresnahan and eating at the same table with the remainder of the team, has led him to hanker after a bigger salary than a class D team is prepared to pay. In case the local management and Marion do not get together on the money proposition there will be a vacancy on the Dulutr pitching staff to fill.

Cummings is expected to report in a few days in Duluth. And then in addition to these men Darby has Davis, Brynes, Kenney, Howard, Reddersdorf, McGinnity and the new man Jaenicke from whom to pick the fourth member of the pitching staff.

DIRECTORS PLAN LEAGUE OPENING

At the meeting of the directors of the baseball association last night plans for the opening of the baseball season here May 11 were discussed, this taking up the greater part of the evening's session. The directors will make no effort to have the business establishments close on this day as they have been assured by the greater share of them that they will do so on their own initiative. This will give the employes an opportunity to see the game and swell the opening attendance records. The game will be preceded by a parade with a band in attendance on the down town streets. Short speeches will be made at the park.

Walter Simonton has again been engaged to handle the ticket sales at the grounds.

GREENE'S TEAM TO PLAY AT BANGOR

The Greene's White Sox baseball team will meet the Bangor team on their grounds Sunday afternoon. The Greene's have not lost a game yet this year and will play hard to win this one. The lineup will be as follows for the White Sox:

B. Borseth, c; C. Wiles, p; E. Deigle, 1b; E. Hess, 2b; P. Gage, 3b; C. Ernst, ss; R. Falk, lf; C. Staek, rf; C. Neilter, cf; E. Horn, p.

The White Sox will soon bring out the challenge to meet any team in or outside the city, as they now have a good reputation by defeating the fast La Crescent team.

W.-I. LEAGUE RACE STARTING TODAY

The 1910 race in the Wisconsin-Illinois league opened today. Green Bay is playing at Appleton, Fond du Lac at Oshkosh, Madison at Racine, and Rockford at Aurora. In order to give the fans in the various cities opportunity to get an early peep at the teams the schedule has been arranged so that but one game will be played today at the opening towns. Tomorrow Appleton will be at Green Bay, Oshkosh will be at Fond du Lac, Racine at Madison and Aurora at Rockford.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by O. T. Erhart.

IS SUPPOSED TO BE CAMP'S VIEW

Football Article Probably Written by Yale Man, Says Game will Be Individual This Year

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 4.—What are supposed to be Walter Camp's views on the new football rules are published in the Yale Daily News under the explanation that they are written by a "member of the rules committee."

According to the writer, who is believed to be Camp, this year's game will be played with more individuality and less concerted action, although team play will be an important feature.

The accidents of last year, the writer declares, were caused by concerted hammering on unsupported tackles and the defenseless positions of the ends in receiving the forward passes.

The rules committee decided that it would be impossible to make a forward pass across the line of scrimmage and still have the play safe. So the distance to be gained was reduced to eight yards instead of ten and this, with the rule forbidding pulling and pushing of runners and locked interference may make the game safe.

The rules forbidding flying tackles and permitting the quarterback to cross the line of scrimmage, together with the eight yard rule will aid the attack and make up in a considerable measure for the weakening of the offense by abandoning pushing and pulling.

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, May 4.—Wheat bulls found little comfort in the news, aside from scattered fly damage claims, which according to experts, have little foundation, opening was nervous and a shade lower to a shade higher. At levels ⅛ to 1 cent above yesterday's close, offerings were liberal although selling was decidedly unobtrusive and the market reacted ⅜c under last close, when open support was renewed.

Corn acted draggy from the start, May selling off ¼ to ⅜ on the first trades, and July also easing. There was less of the recent elevator buying in of May hedges and a poor general demand for all months. The Patten house was an open seller.

Oats had a minimum of action early, prices holding within ⅛ to ¼ range and trade being at low ebb.

Provisions were steady to firm on a light trade. Prices at best were 2½ to 7½ cents above yesterday's close.

Wheat closed weak all around. Corn off in sympathy. Oats ended ⅛ cents higher to ⅛c lower. Provisions strong and higher.

MAY PROSECUTE WATER TAKERS

"Unless the violations of the city ordinance regarding the use of city water are stopped, prosecutions will follow," said Commissioner James T. Day of the board of public works today. "There are many residents of the city who are knowingly violating the ordinance and some of them are members of the council. I do not propose to give anyone the worst of it, but I will follow out the instructions and as laid down in the ordinance.

"Since sending out notices to water takers calling attention to the fact that flat rate users will be rerated, many complaints have come to this office. I have found where some are not paying for the water they use while others are paying more than they should. All we want is to have everyone pay the amount required under the charter. The ordinance specifically provides what the charges should be and we propose to enforce it and treat everyone fairly in the matter."

DENOYER EXPLAINS HALLEY'S COMET

Gives Interesting Talk at Civic Center Session; Reed Talks on the Visiting Nurse

Another successful meeting was held by the social center club at the Washburn school last night, and some very interesting topics were discussed.

Prof. Denoyer of the normal school delivered a fine address on Halley's comet, telling of many things which were not fully understood before. He said that contrary to some opinions, comets were not in the least dangerous, and that they were not such a rarity as supposed. Records of seven hundred and fifty comets were kept. Many of these, however, were telescopic, but eighty others could be seen with the naked eye. He had with him a diagram with which to illustrate his talk, and showed the path of the different comets. Halley's comet travels in the opposite direction to the sun, and appears at regular intervals, usually about seventy-six years apart. Not enough of the poisonous gases are contained in the tail to harm anything, and even if some of these should escape, they would not prove dangerous. Although the parts of the head are spread over a great area, if placed together, they would not cover a territory more than thirty miles in diameter. At the present time, the comet is visible slightly after 3 a. m., will continue to rise and set later until the 18th, when it will be visible after sunset to the naked eye. When first discovered it arose in the evening, the time becoming later each day, until it disappeared at night. After the interesting talk, an informal conversation was carried on, Mr. Denoyer answering all questions.

Dr. E. N. Reed Speaks

Dr. E. N. Reed, the other speaker, also delivered an interesting address, his subjecvt being the "Visiting Nurse." He said that the nurse could do a great deal more good than a docaor, she had more time to spend with the patient than the physician, and had more time to give instructions. This would be a great help in this city, as many people who do not have time to take proper care of disease would now have a chance to learn of sanitary treatment.

Both men were given a vote of thanks for their talks.

Proposes Amendments

After the addresses, C. W. Dickenson proposed several amendments to the constitution. One was that the board of managers consist of five men in addition to the officers and Prof. Hardy, instead of only two as formerly; the other was that the meetings be held on Thursdays instead of Tuesdays as formerly. The amendment was put up to the committee, and will be acted upon at the next meeting.

In view of the fact that a great deal of interest is being taken in the city government, it was moved that a discussion of the commission form of government should be held in the near future.

After the meeting the time was devoted to a social hour in which to get acquainted.

HIGH SCHOOL IS CHOSEN AS MODEL

Supt. Bird Gets Request for Pictures from the Department of Education at the Capital

Superintendent John P. Bird of the La Crosse public schools has received a letter from Commissioner Elmer E. Brown of the bureau of education at Washington, in which he says he is preparing to publish a bulletin on school houses, prepared by Prof. F. B. Dresslar of the university of Alabama. "The author desires to include in his work illustrations of many of the best types of American school buildings," continued the commissioner, "and has selected the La Crosse high school among the number."

Mr. Bird is requested to furnish floor plans, original engravings and pictures to help illustrate the references to the La Crosse school which is considered by authorities to be one of the best and most modern in the country.

report.

Frank Winter moved the adoption of the majority report which was seconded by J. L. Pettingill.

B. F. Bryant believed the members of the board ought to have more information upon the subject before voting. He could not see how the commission form would save the city any money because the expenses would go on just the same as at present. He suggested that an improvement in the present system would be to have the mayor make all appointments to be confirmed by the common council.

Rev. Henry Faville favored the commission form of government, stating that he was converted to that plan after hearing two high school debating clubs debate the subject.

John C. Toeller was in favor of a commission system but he did not believe in electing a mayor for six years without a recall.

A. Hirshheimer said it appeared as though everyone was in favor of a commission government and thereupon he moved that the board go on record as favoring that plan in La Crosse. The motion was carried.

Thereupon on motion of A. H. Schubert the matter was referred back to the committee to draft proper amendments to be presented to the legislature.

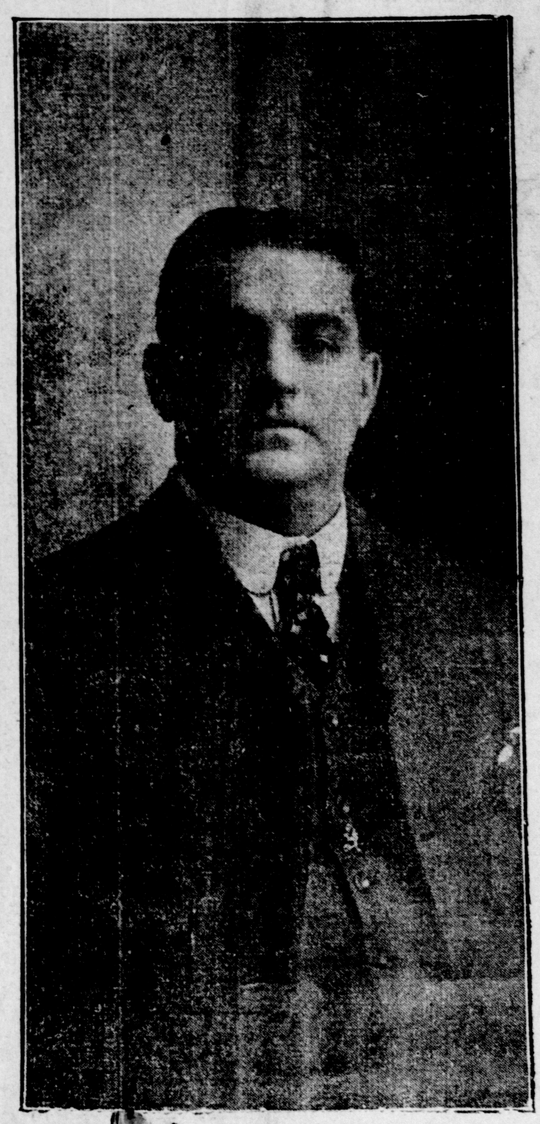

Favors Health Department

Dr. Edward Evans spoke upon the effort that is being made by the medical profession to bring about the passage of Senator Owen's bill providing for the establishment of a department of health in connection with the national government at Washington. The board heartily endorsed the bill by the adoption of a resolution, a copy of which will be sent to Congressman Esch and other Wisconsin representatives and senators.

The road and bridge commitee, which had the matter of free bridge under consideration, reported that about a year ago a similar committeen reported against a free bridge and the committee is of the opinion that conditions are the same now as they were then.

Secretary J. L. Utermoehl read a report from the La Crosse Industrial association, showing what had been done since the organization of the association. The La Crosse Rubber Mills company has been assisted in increasing its capital stock $100,000, the Northern Leaf Tobacco plant has been disposed of and several manufacturing propositions are now under consideration.

A committee of three will be appointed to make an investigation as to the prospects of retaining the steamer La Crosse in service between this city and Wabasha and report back to the board.

Mr. Ahern, who is appearing at the Majestic theater this week with his wife in a difficult head and hand balancing act.
